IRRIGATION EXPLAINED

Mr. Dennis Tells Land Seekers of Our Advantages

Calgary Daily News: Before quite a number of intending settlers from Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and other western States, Mr. J.S. Dennis gave a very interesting talk on irrigation, in the C. P. R. Colonization Irrigation company's building.

Mr. Peterson introduced Mr. Dennis to the assembly. Mr. Dennis said that the object in meeting them was to give accurate information concerning irrigation and irrigated lands. He explained in historical outline how the C. P. R. were bonded by the Dominion government with 25,000,000 acres of land and why they were now irrigating and settling it. He also further explained the clause in the agreement with the government reading, "fit for settlement," and pointed out where the lands were located.

"We have gone into this irrigation scheme," said Mr. Dennis, "not with the intention of making a profit out of it but with the intention of colonizing the land and thereby make traffic for the railway company. Primarily the object is to help the railway company."

"Therefore we are able to offer these irrigated lands at a lower price than if they were sold for profit."

He explained in detail the increase in land values in the last few years and also why the C. P. R. were selling lands through an agency company rather than direct.

Mr. Dennis took up the features of the irrigation project and gave figures to show that it was the largest works of the kind in operation on the continent.

"Our project," said he, "embraces a block of 8,000,000 acres and we are now irrigating 1,000,000 acres of this land. And it is, because of this I claim we stand alone."

Mr. Dennis also compared Canadian irrigation laws with those in operation in the States. The basis of all irrigation development he claimed was in the law under which the water was used. As a result of this law the C. P. R. Colonization Irrigation company had yet to have its first case or dispute in the courts. He quoted Dr. Elwood Mead and the various national irrigation congresses in the States as being in favor of Canadian irrigation laws.

Mr. Dennis strongly pointed out that the value of irrigated lands was not in the land but in the water supply.

The great trouble in using water in the States was in the crude way in which irrigated lands were registered. These lands titles have since been amended but they are still considerably behind us.

Mr. Dennis explained in full how the government kept a tabulated statement by which the country was protected against an over appropriation of water supply. The law on this point distinctly says how much water can be supplied and when it shall be given.

He also pointed out the benefits and safeguards of a Canadian land title and illustrated with concrete examples the certainty of water supply in this country compared with the uncertainty which prevailed in some of the western States.

Mr. Dennis described in detail the permanent construction of the irrigation works of this province.

"The owner of an irrigated farm has a positive insurance of crops for all times not possessed by any dry farmer in the world."

Mr. Dennis concluded by stating that taken altogether with its areas, its laws, its construction and its modes of sales and procedure the C. P. R. Colonization and Irrigation company has under its control the greatest irrigation scheme on the continent.

LAKEWOOD PERCHERONS

Brice H. Bunney returned from Iowa, last week, bringing with him admittedly the finest Percheron stallion ever brought into this section. This horse is known as "Hugo" No. 45075, and was purchased from the president of the Percheron Society of America, Mr. H. G. McMillan, of Lakewood Farm, Rock Rapids, Iowa. "Hugo" is a beautiful chestnut color, sired by Romeo 12735 and dammed by Marianne 45073, weighs 1750 lbs. and is only two years and ten months old. A local horseman describes him briefly: "A perfect picture, beautiful action, good sound feet and legs, and a body and coupling that cannot be beat." This country will be benefited by such an importation and a great deal of credit is due Mr. Bunney for introducing such stock into the country. He has taken the horse out to his ranch in Crawling Valley. Mr. Bunney states Mr. McMillan has decided to send out a number of Lakewood Percherons to Gleichen next year and enter into a regular business here. At the 1906 Chicago International Fair Lakewood Percherons won 20 prizes and 11 first championships.

START WITH 500 TREES

An enthusiastic meeting convened Monday evening in the Cosgrave Block at the call of the Overseer to consider the generous offer of Mr. J. S. Dennis, 2nd Vice-President of the C. P. R., to supply free of charge shade trees and water with which to beautify Gleichen.

Overseer Cosgrave occupied the chair and opened the meeting by carefully explaining the object for which he had called it. Then an informal discussion took place, nearly everyone present focusing heartily in it. Each one acknowledged the great advantage of the trees and water to the town, but it was argued that it would be next to impossible to properly protect the trees from horses and cattle. It was pointed out that the Ordinance permitted of a herd law being passed and enforced, yet the great trouble would be that although the town cows might be kept fenced in there would always be danger of range stock coming into town and doing damage.

Then several of those present volunteered to fence in their lots and plant the trees within the fence for protection. Some, who already had fences, were in favor of moving their fences out on the street for the protection of the trees until the progress of the town fully warranted a herd law that could be properly enforced, but it was thought legal objections to this might be taken.

Finally a canvass was made of those present of how many trees each man was willing to take the responsibility of caring for and upon a careful estimate it was considered that to start with at least 500 trees might be accepted, and accordingly a motion was passed unanimously that the Overseer write Mr. Dennis thanking him for his offer and telling him the town was prepared to accept 500 trees for planting.

Some discussion arose as to the planting of the trees properly and Mr. Griesbach explained that it was the intention of Mr. Dennis to send a man along with the trees to see that they were properly planted, and all agreed this would be most satisfactory.

The question of planting a grove at the cemetery was brought up and Mr. Griesbach, with his usual enterprise stated that he had already accepted the responsibility of planting and taking care of 200 trees for the cemetery, but said he had no objection to any one going along with him to dig holes for the trees.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Wm. Service and A. Gray, have amalgamated their interests and in future will be known to the world as Service & Gray, blacksmiths and horseshoers. They have joined hands for many reasons, chief among them being that they can now do better and quicker work and enlarge their plant to keep up with the growing demands of the trade. They have installed a gasoline engine with which they will operate a power-hammer and emery wheel and will do all classes of woodwork in connection. They have also cut out the credit system and will do a cash business and give fair prices. Success to the new firm.

The invitations are out for the Citizens Ball to be given next Thursday evening—May 23rd. This Ball promises to be the most successful ever given in Gleichen as no effort is being spared to make it so. The orchestra engaged from Calgary is composed of members of the 15th Light Horse Band, who are without doubt among the best musicians in the west. The various committees are doing all in their power to do their part well and when the time arrives those who have already expressed their intention of coming from a distance will have no regrets. It may be well to state the citizens are giving this ball free of all charges.

F. Read, whose daughter horses and the Bassano man—Tonnant—ran away with, called at this office Saturday and stated that if it was at all possible he would have Tonnant followed across the boundary into the States and arrested and given the full benefit of the law. It is to be hoped Mr. Read will be successful in running down this unprincipled scoundrel and placing him behind the bars for a long term. A man who will desert his wife and infant child and steal is made of too common a clay to be allowed at large.

Communicated: A surprise party was given on the night of the 1st of May at Messrs. Bell and Ogilvie's ranch on the Red Deer river by Mrs. Robt. Shaw of the Hand Hills. There were about 35 couples present, many of those present coming long distances, from 55 miles down the river to 20 miles up the river, but one and all admit that they were well repaid for their trip by the good time they had. Dancing started about 8:30 that evening and was kept up until about 4 in the morning, when everyone went home feeling they had thoroughly enjoyed themselves. At midnight a splendid repast was served.

H. Kruse, a Canadian Pacific Irrigation Colonization Company agent, was in Gleichen Saturday with eight or ten land seekers from Iowa. After spending most of the day looking over the land north of here they visited the company's Demonstration Farm and appeared highly pleased with their visit.

Stepney Bros. gasoline traction engine has been doing good work the past week or more in hauling five wagons loaded with hay to the station, as well as plowing at the ranch. Each time the engine is brought to town it attracts a great deal of attention and is the wonder of the Indians in town. The owners are figuring on making the engine work two shifts. They propose plowing during the day and hauling hay at night.

Mr. Truscott, of the B. C. Building Co., was in town last week to get estimates for the basement work of the new Bank of Commerce building. The new bank will be an improvement on the plans of banks built last year. The main building will be 30x40 feet, with wings extending from each side, making it 38 feet in the widest part.

F. H. Blackburn of Kamloops, B.C., has purchased J. A. E. Beupre's lot and building, adjoining Millie & Wilson's butcher shop, and is arranging to open a store in it within a few weeks. He will carry a full line of gent's furnishings and boots and shoes.

Horace Inkster has signed a contract with the B.C. General Contracting Co. to deliver 2,000,000 feet of timber along the irrigation canal to be used on ditches, bridges culverts, etc.

J. A. N. Ranaud is fitting up James' former store building for a restaurant, which he expects to open about June 1st.

NEW P.O. AND DRUG STORE

A. R. Yates has been official appointed post master for Gleichen, vice D. B. McNeil, from July 1st next. Mr. Yates has had several years experience as post master in British Columbia and Gleichen is fortunate in getting so capable a man for that important position as he, for the B. C. post office inspector unhesitatingly stated that he considered Mr. Yates' office the best kept office in the province. Mr. Yates has been anticipating this appointment for some time and already has arranged to have a new business block erected opposite his present stand, in which he will have the post office and his drug and stationery store. The contract has already been let by Mr. McNeil for the new building to J. B. Dutoir, who will start work immediately. The work of removing the old buildings off the site has already started. Mr. McNeil, who has been in charge of the post office for over three years and who has given entire satisfaction, is retiring from business and will move to Vancouver when his time expires.

HAND HILLS JOSHER AT LARGE

The Gleichen Call asked me to explain why, and give all the extenuating circumstances for the Hand Hills getting out, and disfiguring the face of this beautiful green earth. We give it up, as it seems to have been done with malice aforethought and without provocation. However, we will give you the facts about this nefarious district in order to try to turn a part of the great stream of immigration our way.

What we want is settlers. We want them bad. So that when they desert and leave their families and improvements, we get them.

The Hand Hills is bounded on the east by the vast alluvial plain between the Bull Pond and Berry Creek, where the luxuriant and nutritious blades of grass grow in nice easy phoning distance of each other. On the south it is bounded by the Red Deer River, and verily the stink thereof ascendeth even unto the heavens. On the west and north lie regions of eternal snow and ice.

The Hand Hills are between a half and three quarters of mile high, which makes this an ideal stock district, because the snow all blows off—so do the cattle.

The Hand Hills has a population of about one hundred people and two dozen Yankys. They are a bright intellectual class of people—figuring each man by his own estimate; but most of them have gone batty in other vacation before adopting pastoral pursuits. And here I was once young and am now old, but I have never seen as promising a bunch of liars as is here collected. We claim to have the champion heavy-weight, light heavy-weight, middle-weight, light-weight, welter-weight, feather-weight, and bantam-weight. All these gentlemen are anxious for engagements, but we are particularly anxious to secure a twenty round go between our bantam and the champion of B. C. or A. D. He has been in active training for several years and is in the pink of condition. He has recently taken part in several exhibition bouts, for points only, with local celebrities, but has struck nothing that constituted more than light exercise.

R. L. Shaw is away buying and shipping cattle at present.

H. Lambert, W. Marriott, Geo. Bell, Geo. Gowen, F. D. Carder, and D. C. Glass were visitors to Gleichen this week.

Charlie Ewing has been missing from this side for about a month. Everybody wonders where he is and what he is doing.

Geo. Ball, who owns some of the best dogs in Alberta, recently took out some seven-month-old-pups and captured a large bob-cat. One pup had to be carried to his corner at the end of the first round, but it was a remarkable kill. This was really a large cat when killed and has been growing ever since.

Please have some all round handy-theologian explain the postmortem growth of savage beasts.

Jack Code killed one last winter that acted the same way. Finally, after explaining to about a dozen inquisitive neighbors how the hide had shrunk out of all proportion to the size of the cat, he destroyed the hide. Jack says a man can't afford to spoil a good story for a three dollar hide. NOAH.

W. PARK EVANS, - - - Publisher and Proprietor.

Gleichen, Alberta, May 16, 1907.

At the C. P. I. C. Co.'s demonstration farm just east of town a practical test is being made this year of sugar beet growing with irrigation. And upon this experiment will depend the erection of a sugar refinery at Gleichen. Those who have already grown sugar beets here claim they have had excellent success and do not hesitate to say it is a foregone conclusion the experiment by the company will result most favorably. A sugar refinery at Gleichen would be a great acquisition to the town and the result of the company's experiment will be closely watched by all interested in the town and district.

A word to advertisers: We like to see the ads in this paper changed. It keeps up the interest in the paper and brings business to you. But we would like you to bring your changes in early for our type artist cannot give you the proper display unless he has plenty of time to do it in. Ad. setting is as much an art as the painting of a picture and if the artist is rushed he cannot turn out good work. A word to the wise is sufficient. Send in your changes on a Friday if you can for the following week.

Some definite move should be made to get a grain elevator built at Gleichen before fall. Already two companies have promised to build elevators, but so far they have done nothing further than promise. What is the matter with forming a local company to build an elevator? There are many advantages in local people owning their own elevator, chief among them being that the charges can be regulated by the people who have to pay them.

From the irrigation canal the land slopes gently to the station. Can anyone imagine a more beautiful sight than the streets up and along this slope dotted with evergreen trees and streams of water running along either side? This will be seen in a very short time if Mr. Dennis' liberal offer is accepted by the citizens.

There are farmers in this vicinity who have made $2,000 and $3,000 last year by selling prairie hay. It cost them about $2.50 per ton to stack the hay and when they had nothing to do during the winter they hauled it to the station and got from $9 to $12 per ton. Think of that Mr. Land Seeker.

The Gleichen district is now fast settling as a mixed farming country, although for many years it has been known as the finest stock country in the west. It still retains its nutritious grasses and will in a short time develop into a great dairying district.

Land in the Gleichen district can be purchased from $5 an acre upwards. It is estimated that a profit of $10 per acre can be made after all expenses are paid on the first crop. Taking into consideration the price of land, can this be beaten anywhere?

Prairie hay sold as high as $12 per ton at the station last winter, and it has a wonderful growth all over this district.

For mixed farming there is no better country than Gleichen district.

Farming, ranching and coal mining Doesn't that trio sound good?

ALBERTA BEEF COMMISSION

The Beef Commission has finally taken shape. A preliminary meeting to arrange details was held at Medicine Hat on the 18th of May.

Of the four Provinces which first signified their intention to investigate this question, only two are standing by their first convictions, namely Manitoba and Alberta.

Sittings of the Commission will be held at various places throughout the two Provinces, to hear evidence from the producer, the dealer, the transporter and the consumer, and any others from whom information may be derived.

In the choice of places for these sittings the object will be to distribute them as well as possible, so as to cover the whole of the interested territory and give the Commissioners an opportunity to hear evidence from every district affected. It is probable that the following places in Alberta will be chosen: Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, MacLeod, Pincher Creek, High River, Calgary, Innisfail, Lacombe, Edmonton and Vermilion. If there are other places which feel that their districts should be favored with a sitting it would be well for them to inform the Minister of Agriculture, Edmonton, and the request will be considered.

The Gleichen Call

A CALL to the landless of the world to settle on the unemployed, fertile irrigated lands of "Sunny Alberta" surrounding Gleichen, the heart and centre of these lands.

A CALL to the professional man, the artisan and the laborer to make his home in that Gleichen, which is certain to be one of the most prosperous towns in "Sunny Alberta".

A CALL to the capitalist and the investor to invest in a town and district, which will without any doubt repay his investments a hundred fold in the future.

A CALL to those in search of health—the greatest of all earthly blessings—to come to a Province becoming famous as a Land of Sunshine, neither enervatingly torrid nor frigidly arctic—a happy climatic medium.

A CALL to those now here to work for the interests of that Gleichen they have made their home, to work for its present interests and its future welfare; to work unselfishly and unitedly for its advancement and prosperity. To work and never rest content till "Our Town" reaches a higher and a higher and a still higher position, nor to cease their endeavors 'till at last she takes her place as one of the foremost cities in fertile, mineral-endowed, healthy, beautiful, Sunny Alberta.

S. M. DICKINSON.

CRADLE SONG

What is the little one thinking about?
Very wonderful things no doubt;
Unwritten history,
Unfathomed mystery.

Yet he chuckles and crows, and nods and winks
As if his head were as full of kinks
And curious riddles as any sphinx,
Warped by colic, and wet by tears,
Punctured by pins and tortured by fears,
Our little nephew will loose two years,
And he'll never know
Where the summers go;

He need not laugh for he'll find it so.
Who can tell what a baby thinks?
Who can follow the gossamer links
By which the unakin feels his way
Out from the shore of the great unknown,
Blind, and walling, and alone,
Into the light of day?
Out from the shore of the unknown sea,
Tossing in pitful agony;
Of the unknown sea that reels and rolls,
Specked with the barks of little souls;
Barks that were launched on the other side,
And slipped from heaven on an ebbing tide.

What does he think of his mother's eyes?
What does he think of his mother's hair?
What of the cradle roof that flies
Forward and backward through the air?
What does he think of his mother's breast?
Bare and beautiful, smooth and white,
Seeking it ever with fresh delight,
Cup of his life and couch of his rest?

What does he think of her quick embrace,
Presses his hand and buries his face
Deep where the heart throbs sick and swell,
With a tenderness she can never tell,
Though she murmur the words
Of all the birds,
Words she has learned to murmur
Now he thinks he'll go to sleep;
I can see the shadow creep
Over his eyes in soft eclipse
Over his brow and over his lips,
Out to his little finger tips,
Softly sinking, down he goes,
See! He's hushed in sweet repose.

LIFE IS WHAT WE MAKE IT

Ella Wheeler Wilcox has faithfully expressed a common truth in a little poem entitled "Companionship," commencing:

"Laugh and the world laughs with you
Weep and you weep alone.

For the sad old earth must borrow its mirth
But has trouble enough of its own.

"Sing and the hills will answer;
Sigh and it is lost in the air;
The echoes bound to a joyful sound,
But shrink from voicing care."

One of the first and hardest lessons which the novice has to learn upon entering the great busy world of toil and tumult is that the rushing, struggling, striving public has on interest in the grief of any individual. It is too fully occupied with its own advancement to spend a thought or a care on what does not concern or affect its welfare.

When we come to investigate we will find that trouble is universal and is more equally meted out than we suppose. It comes to us all in one form or another, sometimes in disguise, but in the same ugly spectre when the mask is thrown aside. Every heart has its burden which wealth cannot lighten, nor honor alleviate. It may be in the hidden depths, unseen by human eyes, but it is there nevertheless, and will be until the spirit throws off this "mortal evil" and leaves it behind with its earthly tenement. The only difference is that one has the mortal courage to meet or overcome or else submit bravely to the inevitable, while the other makes no effort to lift itself from the stream into which the tide of circumstances has placed it, but wastes the strength, which, if properly exerted would put it on its feet, in vain regrets and useless repining.

Whatever your trials and disappointments, keep them to yourself; they only worry your friends and vex those who have no claim upon your confidences. Keep a bright face, a cheerful word and a hopeful heart. Carry in your bearing the dignity of self-esteem and let the air of prosperity fit you like a garment. Extend to the world a cordial hand, and remember that life is for the most part what we make it.

The Perfume of the Earth

While Robert G. Ingersol made for himself a legion of enemies by his attacks upon Christianity, all must admire his eloquence. No man in America could more beautifully frame a sentence, and his eloquent remarks at the grave of his brother lead one to doubt if the great infidel was half so bad as his own words, at times, pictured him to be. A man who uttered so many beautiful things had but little room in his heart for atheism with its cold, revolting, heathenish teachings. In a symposium on woman, Col. Robert G. Ingersol was asked to contribute his views. He replied as follows:

"It takes a hundred men to make an encampment, but one woman can make a home. I not only admire women as the most beautiful object ever created, but I reverence her as the redeemed glory of humanity, the sanctuary of all virtues, the pledge of all perfect qualities of heart and head. It is because women are so much better than men that their faults are considered greater. The one thing in this world that is constant, the only peak that rises above the clouds, the one window in which the light burns forever, the one star that darkness cannot quench, is woman's love. It rises to the greatest heights, it sinks to the lowest depths, it forgives the most cruel injuries. A woman's love is the perfume of the earth. This is the real love that subdues the earth; the love that has wrought all miracles of art; that gives us music all the way from the cradle song to the grand closing symphony that bears the soul away on wings of fire. A love that is greater than power, sweeter than life and stronger than death."

Be good and you will often be loved some.

When industry is free all mankind will be free.

Indigestion is often cured by thinking well of everybody.

Any kind of freedom requires the striking of a few blows.

"The Best in the West"

Do you know what it cost me to be able to write the above?

Fourteen years continuous study and practice.

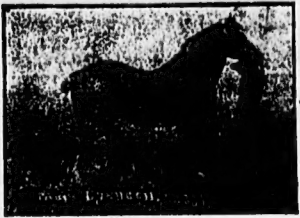

Five Post Graduate courses in New York, Chicago, Buffalo, Toronto and Seattle. Hours of study and experiment when my professional brothers were out with the other lucky ones enjoying themselves.

Thousands of dollars where hundreds are generally spent in dental education.

"It was worth while after all!"

The wedding of Mr. J. A. N. Renaud and Miss Emily Oliver is announced to take place on Monday, May 27th, to which they invite all their friends. Invitations are being issued for a wedding ball in the hall that evening.

The Call would like to have a correspondent at every point in this district, and believes it of as much interest to the different towns to send us news as it is to the Call. Come now, gentlemen, boost your own town and make everyone happy.

The Call will print you on reasonable notice and in any amount, shipping tags, billheads, statements, letterheads, noteheads, memos, receipts, envelopes, visiting cards, business cards, bills of fare, dodgers, posters, etc., etc. Will meet any quality or price.

A racing game of football is promised for tomorrow—Friday—evening, when a championship match will be played that will go down in history under the title of "The Englishmen vs. The World." The line-up on both sides is very strong and you will miss something real good if you are not on the ground that evening.

F. F. Baker, C. P. I. C. Co. agent at Greely, arrived at Gleichen Monday with a private car well filled with land seekers from Colorado. Geo. H. Walsh, head-salesman, took charge of the party and drove them about to see the land here. The entire party seemed very highly pleased with all they saw here, and it is understood most of them have decided to purchase land here.

An effort is being made at Red Deer River to get a post office established and have a stage deliver it there weekly. Over a hundred and fifty names have been signed to a petition sent to the Post Master General asking him to grant this necessity. An office established at some point in this vicinity would be of great benefit to the settlers along the river and would materially aid in building up that section.

A. P. Reitan and wife arrived last week from Foston, Minn., and have located on land two and a half miles north of town, close to H. Harrison's ranch. Mr. Reitan is very anxious that a beet sugar refinery be established here and says that he came here with the understanding that such would be the case. He does not hesitate to say that if beets can be grown here and a refinery put in, land within a radius of six or eight miles will immediately be worth $100 per acre.

Calgary Herald: Frank B. Smith, of Edmonton, provincial mining expert, was in the city Saturday. Mr. Smith interviewed stated that he has been reporting on some coal deposits near the Blackfoot Indian reservation at Gleichen for some private Calgary capitalists, and that the indications are excellent. He goes to Edmonton to engage the services of another driller before going any further.

Mr. Smith does not treat the recent reported coal discovery in Calgary seriously. He states that these small isolated coal deposits are quite common, but, as in this case, do not naturally indicate coal measures of any practical value.

Mr. Lambert was in from the Hand Hills a few days last week.

W. J. Hyde the well-known rancher has invested in Gleichen town lots. Last week J. J. Marshall sold him eight town lots. Mr. Hyde evidently believes in Gleichen's future.
